

Emerging from difficult situations in Business & Life and unlocking your
New Potential

*A Partnership for finding New Solutions in Business, Leadership & Life
With Ivet Pavlova, Transformational Coach & Trainer for Business Leaders and Teams*

Why this, why now?

Currently, when the whole world is experiencing stress and uncertainty, many people need support to turn their challenges into new potential. To cope with our problems and develop, we need to move out of our comfort zone and stretch. But sometimes people get stuck or paralyzed because of negative feelings, fears, unbearable responsibilities or broken dreams.

In such periods the best solution is to have a trusted partner with an unbiased point of view to support you in finding new solutions. This is what I do as a coach. More than that...

My gift is to feel exactly what people need, and using coaching, Neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), Systemic Constellations, and some other methodologies, to provide them with the proper tools and resources unique for each person, that can help them get out of difficult situations fast. I help people connect with their inner wisdom and the light inside them, see a new direction, create new skills and habits, redefine their goals and grow, even in such challenging periods as the year 2021 +.

Hello, I'm Ivet Pavlova,

Business, Leadership & Life-balance Coach and Trainer

With a holistic approach for solving people's challenges in business & life

My mission is to help Business Leaders and their teams emerge from difficult situations and elevate their business and life with more joy, love, and happiness, creating a positive environment where people blossom.

I live my mission by partnering with business leaders and their teams to release stress, manage their focus, energy & confidence, find new solutions, improve communication & relationships with people in their environment, and achieve their goals with ease.

I have created a holistic approach for solving business challenges because I believe that business, leadership and life-balance are interdependent. We need to develop them together in order to keep our health, energy, inspiration, and fulfillment, in balance and at a high level, currently and in the long term. This is the way we can give our best to others.

And everything starts with the leader.

That is why I am dedicated to help leaders emerge from difficult situations and bring their light to others.

My experience

I have worked as a certified NLP coach since 2014, adding new methodologies and tools to my practice each year. Selecting them specifically to give solutions with lasting results. I have highly developed my intuition and unique coaching style that gives results fast. I have a wealth of experience in banking, finance & auditing, business development, reorganization & expansion of small, medium and large businesses, where I witnessed the profound impact of empathetic leadership and the need of maintaining balance in life. Finding coaching, I have found my inner calling. This was the beginning of my new personal and professional journey of transformation and growth. It has brought about so many positive changes and light in my life, and I want to share it with you! (More about me: ivetpavlova.com)

I constantly learn new things and develop as a coach and as a person, and it reflects in my programs annually. I will bring my whole 25+ years experience to you and provide you with the tools to solve your challenges.

All my programs give transformation and positive solutions. They are based on my beliefs and willingness to be of the best service to people.

As a coach and trainer, I partner with leaders and companies in different industries: IT & Technology, Financial, Legal, Marketing, Tourism, Education, Pharmacy, Co-working spaces, Outsourcing, Wellness & Beauty, Real estate investments and management, production & trade of goods, and others, as well as coaches all over the world.

An individual coaching and healing process

that

WE ARE GOING TO CREATE TOGETHER

according to your specific needs for finding new solutions.

What will you get?

- ✓ Time for yourself and a new deeper connection with your inner wisdom.
- ✓ You will find your unique way to calm down, feel confident, develop an awareness of yourself, people and situations, have patience and understanding even during hot discussions with others and periods of stress. This will pay you back by improving your relationships with the important people in your business and personal life, creating a positive environment where people blossom.
- ✓ You will find new perspectives, solutions, directions and impetus in business and life. You will create your own new vision, habits, skills & strategies accordingly. You will see your own big and small steps for growing and moving forward efficiently, with joy.
- ✓ You will find your unique way to make yourself a priority in order to keep your health and well-being in good condition, making yourself more creative and productive, feeling happy and inspired. You will find a new understanding about loving yourself and others, enriching you all.
- ✓ You will have much positive energy, clarity and awareness. You will choose your behavior changes to open your authentic self, take more efficient actions, create changes, inspire people, and grow your business fast, while keeping your life balance at the same time.

How do we work?

- ✓ This is an individual online coaching process for business leaders in partnership with me providing you with special time and confidential virtual space to support you as a leader to emerge from difficult situations in business and life, and unlock your new potential.
- ✓ As a coach, based on a discussion between us, I will provide you with the proper tools for solving your specific challenges and finding solutions. You will provide the content.
- ✓ The results depend on your willingness to participate. You will measure the results after each coaching session. All results can be measured, even the emotional ones.
- ✓ We will meet online 2 or 4 times a month, depending on your time and needs for coaching.
- ✓ The duration of the process depends on your personal needs for transformation, finding new solutions and growing. Sometimes it takes a month, other times it takes 3, 6 or 9 months, depending on your challenges and desire to grow.

Happy customers' sharing

- ✓ Asking George Popovianski, CEO at NET INS Brokers "What is the most valuable thing for you from our coaching partnership?", he said: "Your questions are very valuable because they are unbiased and objective, asked from the site observer. I am involved in my situations and I can't always ask myself the right questions. But in order to have the right answers, we need to ask the right questions - which you do as a coach."
- ✓ Ivet helped me during the period of the fast growth of our company. I was facing a conflict with one of our partners, very limited personal time, and several hard projects. She helped me revise my priorities and pay more attention to creating balance among my family, my health care, and my job. Five months after we worked together, I saw sustainable results such as good new habits (practicing sport and meditation), calmer reactions during the emotional discussions in the office, and an optimistic approach as a whole. And the fact that the results are sustainable, is the most important for me. I recommend her to anybody that believes they can cope with the challenges but need more clarity about how to do it and to reconsider their direction. – V. Topuzov, Managing Partner, Roiti Ltd.
- ✓ My sessions with Ivet identified one of the biggest obstacles to me and my business. Our talks helped me find a way to redirect my attention and powers to activities and people that have the most favorable effect on me and my personal and business development. Ivet has always been helpful and flexible with me and my experience during the sessions. After every session, I was filled with fresh ideas and specific steps for reaching my goals, which I could undertake immediately. - Simeon, Software engineer, entrepreneur
- ✓ I had been promoted to a leader of an independent unit in our company. At some point, the new responsibilities weighed on me and I was feeling paralyzed. I lost sleep over worries about how to deal with it. I was in doubt whether I could cope with them. Some time ago I used Ivet's coaching services in relation to personal issues. During our sessions, I rethought the situations, I saw the circumstances from a different angle, I clarified my desires, and defined new goals. This helped me make important decisions in life. That is why I decided to participate in one of Ivet's trainings "Coaching with systemic constellations" to look for a decision on one business case. The experience and the results were strikingly interesting. I overcame my fears and I found resources to continue forward with. I understood how I had to act and now my work is going with ease. – V. Mamarova, Office manager at CreditLand
